

Supermarket Slips, Trips and Fall Claims

Each year we are seeing an alarming trend of more accidents happening in and around Supermarkets. With so many of us now either swapping the convenience of the corner shop to get our daily or weekly groceries from the Supermarkets instead. When you also take into consideration that we also now browse and buy electrical goods, clothes and even insurance you can see the appeal of Supermarkets to our human needs and wants.

Add also the number of people who are employed by Supermarkets to help keep them running smoothly and you have a large number of people congested in one place. Accidents will happen in these environments - especially slips, trips and falls.

These types of accidents are rather common in Supermarkets as people flow through aisles of loose goods, spilled items not properly cleaned up or put back onto shelves. Here are several things that you should consider if you have been injured in a Supermarket from a slip, trip or fall and are thinking about claiming compensation.

- Take pictures of the accident scene - mobile camera phones are handy for this - it will help with your claim if you have photographic evidence
- Make sure that a Manager is contacted and reports the accident
- Get names and contact numbers of people who witnessed the accident
- Get a medical examination of your injury and also take pictures of the injured area to help with evidence
- Contact a good personal injury lawyer who will run your claim under a 'No Win No Fee' policy

If you have suffered an injury from a slip, trip or a fall within a Supermarket you may have a good chance to claim compensation for your injury. By following the above pointers will help bolster your claim and help you win maximum compensation.
